► Important to note:

- Rerepresentation does not change the terms and conditions of the contract

Socioeconomic Program Parity

► Status:

- Proposed rule published 3/10/2008 – 73 FR 12699
- Closing date for public comments – 5/9/2008

► Source: SBA initiated

- ### ► Purpose: To ensure that the FAR reflects SBA's interpretation of the Small Business Act and SBA's interpretation of its regulations with regard to the relationship among the Small Business Programs

FAR Case 2006-034

Socioeconomic Program Parity

► Synopsis:

- There is no order of precedence among the 8(a), HUBZone or Service-disabled Veteran-owned (SDVO) small business programs
- If a requirement has been accepted by SBA under the 8(a) Program, it must remain in the 8(a) Program unless SBA agrees to its release
- For acquisitions exceeding $100,000, the contracting officer:
 - Must consider making award under the 8(a), HUBZone or SDVO small business programs (either sole source or set-aside) before proceeding with a small business set-aside
 - After considering making award under those programs, a contracting officer may proceed with a small business set-aside, unless the criteria for setting the acquisition aside for HUBZone small businesses are met, in which case it must be a HUBZone set-aside

Socioeconomic Program Parity

► Synopsis (con't):

- Acquisitions between $3,000 and $100,000
 - The contracting officer has discretionary authority to award to HUBZone SBs, 8(a) Program participants, or SDVOSBs
 - Unlike acquisitions over $100,000, it is not mandatory that a contracting officer set the acquisition aside for HUBZone small businesses before setting it aside for other small businesses
- SBA believes progress in fulfilling the various small business goals is a factor to consider in making a decision as to which program to use for the acquisition

FAR Case 2004-025

Government Property

► Background

- During the 1990's, the Department of Defense initiated a complete rewrite of FAR Part 45. The effort reflected the general consensus that adoption of more typically commercial business practices would not only attract more commercial firms to the marketplace but also result in significant savings of acquisition dollars.
- The legalities and complexities that characterize Government property management drew out differences between the Government and industry parties, resulting in suspension of most of the project. Only the rewrite of Subpart 45.6 was published as a final rule at the time.
- This rule completes the task of rewriting the rest of Part 45 and its associated clauses.

FAR Case 2004-025

Government Property

► Synopsis:

- The rewritten FAR Part 45 implements a policy that improves the management of Government property while fostering efficiency, flexibility, innovation and creativity by adopting property practices typically used in the commercial arena while, continuing to protect the Government's interest.
- The rule complements the use of current processes and technologies such as Enterprise Resource Planning, relational databases, unique item identification, radio frequency tags, bar-coding, and the general trend toward commercialization of components and equipment.
- The rule simplifies requirements on contractors by reducing the number of FAR clauses from nineteen clauses, to three overarching clauses.

FAR Case 2004-025 Government Property

► Synopsis (Con't):

- The rule deletes the current FAR text on facilities contracts and the associated clauses.
- The rule deletes the special tooling and special test equipment language and associated clauses.

FAR Case 2004-025
